

ROCKIES EXPRESS PIPELINE LLC
SUPPLEMENTAL INFORMATION REGARDING OPEN SEASON
FOR NEW INTERSTATE NATURAL GAS PIPELINE CAPACITY
DECEMBER 13, 2005

Rockies Express Pipeline LLC (“Rockies Express”), a Delaware limited liability company being jointly developed and owned by Kinder Morgan Energy Partners, L.P. and Sempra Pipelines & Storage, commenced a binding Open Season for new interstate natural gas pipeline capacity, beginning at 8:00 a.m. CST on Wednesday, November 9, 2005 and ending on Monday, December 19, 2005 at 5:00 p.m. CST.

As explained in the Open Season Procedures and during the customer meetings held individually with prospective shippers and in shipper forums held in Chicago, Illinois and Teaneck, New Jersey, preference will be afforded to those Shippers entering into Precedent Agreements prior to the end of the Open Season. Secondly, Rockies Express will give preference to Open Season bids that contain elections for service over all three planned Certificate Segments of the Rockies Express Pipeline Project. To the extent that parties submit Open Season bids that contain elections of service over less than all three Certificate Segments of the project, such bids shall be considered non-conforming and will be accommodated only at the sole discretion of Rockies Express.

For those parties considering the submission of an Open Season bid, please be advised that Rockies Express is willing to clarify the gas quality provisions of its draft pro-forma FERC gas tariff. As such, Rockies clarifies that in its tariff to be filed with FERC, it will delete the requirement that states that gas must be “otherwise merchantable” and clarify that it will use commercially reasonable efforts to accept off-spec gas, as long as such gas can be blended with other gas supplies, subject to reasonable operational and commercial considerations.

Rockies Express also is willing to modify the uniform hourly flow provisions of its tariff to clarify that either receipts or deliveries of gas on a non-ratable basis will be accommodated where operationally feasible and no penalties or other additional charges shall be applicable to non-ratable receipts and deliveries unless shippers have been notified that this provision is being strictly enforced during a declared directional notice, critical time or other authorized operational notice period on the pipeline.

In addition, Rockies Express also requests that parties which submit bids during the Open Season indicate in their bids their preferred interconnection points to be constructed on the system. Rockies Express has previously provided a list of prospective receipt and delivery points for use on its system (Precedent Agreement, Appendix A listing), and has subsequently stated in its updated Precedent Agreement that it is willing to construct up to 25 such points. In order to ascertain which points to construct, Rockies Express will consider parties’ indications of their preferred points and use that information in conjunction with selecting these points of interconnection. Parties should indicate up to 25 of their most preferred points of interconnection in their bids, regardless of whether they intend to elect those points as “primary” for purposes of their own transportation services.

Rockies Express also advises interested parties to check the website for further updated Precedent Agreements which will be posted and which reflect certain additional modifications, based on input received through numerous discussions with interested parties during the course of the Open Season and since the last set of revisions to the Precedent Agreements was posted. Those updated Precedent Agreements (with red-lined changes indicated) are being posted concurrently with this supplemental information announcement.
